

MEET OUR FARMERS

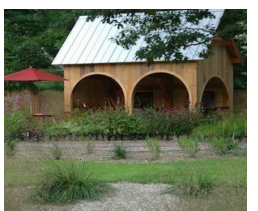

Apple Creek Farm (4)
www.applecreekfarm.me
538 Millay Rd.

Apple Creek Farm is an organic and pasture-based livestock farm. Established in 1985 by the Galle family, the farm is operated by Abby Sadauckas and Jake Galle. The farmers raise chickens, cows, goats, and sheep and produce eggs, a variety of meats, sheepskins, and specialty products. Originally wooded, the farm now includes numerous pastures and areas for silvopasture. The farm will be open from 10 am - 2 pm.

Blue Bell Farm (7)
www.bluebellfarmmaine.com
767 Carding Machine Rd.

David Asmussen & Meredith Eilers joined the Bowdoinham farming community in 2013. Dave hails from upstate New York and first put a shovel in the soil in fourth grade when he dug up the back yard to plant radishes. He met his partner Meredith when she was working at the college organic farm. After adventures far and wide through several states, homesteads and farmland, they were excited to put down roots in Bowdoinham where they grow diverse vegetables, herbs and berries. Dave is a graduate of MOFGA's Journey-person program and is proud to be farming on land with an agricultural conservation easement through the Maine Farmland Trust. You can find their produce at the Bowdoinham farmers market, and local restaurants. Tour the hoop houses and perennial fruit plantings from 9 am - noon.

Campo di Fiori (1)
www.mainegardendesign.com
212 Fisher Rd.

Campo Di Fiori is a specialty nursery growing hardy wildflowers, ornamental grasses, and select cultivars. In creating the plant palette particular attention has been given to plants that are hardy, robust-growing, and low-maintenance while embodying a more natural or wild aesthetic. The majority of these plants have a long season of interest, and for that reason are particularly useful in keeping our gardens attractive from spring into winter. As both gardener and nature lover, Andrew's goal is to inspire and encourage imagination in the art of garden creating with respect to the dynamic beauty and emotion of nature.

Dandelion Spring Farm (5)
www.dandelionspringfarm.com
961 Ridge Rd.

Dandelion Spring Farm is a certified organic mixed vegetable and herb farm that has been in production in the midcoast for 18 years. Beth Schiller joined the Bowdoinham community in 2018 when she purchased 85 acres of land, with beautiful ridges and soil of statewide agricultural importance. After purchasing the property, she sold an easement to Maine Farmland Trust, to forever protect the land. Tender salad greens and aromatic herbs are the baseline of Dandelion Spring, but they also have squash, fairytale, and other roots and greens. Their products can be found at the farmers' markets in Portland, and at many natural food stores and restaurants along Maine's coast.

10 am - 3 pm Visit the farm based art exhibit in The Hive, the new timber frame barn, relax with a short chair massage. Enjoy local food, art, and music. For more info and to sign up for a massage, visit the DSF website.

Enterprise Farm (6)
www.facebook.com/
Enterprise-Farm-
Greenhouse-Farm-Stand
819 White Rd.

Jesse Harriman started Enterprise Farm in 1972 with roots in poultry farming, eventually, as the industry changed, he shifted to vegetable and flower farming. The farm now aims to provide customers with great plants so that they may become successful "farmers" themselves. A wide selection of annual and perennial flowers and healthy vegetable plants are available as well as a wealth of gardening knowledge. In addition, the farm starts hundreds of thousands of plants for truck farmers around Maine. Recently, the farm has begun to sell fresh, locally grown vegetables to our customers! Welcoming visitors 9:00 am to 4:00pm.

East of Eden Flower Farm (2)
2 Sadie Ln.

Join Julia and David Baecher of East of Eden for a walk through the flowers at their small hillside farm where they specialize in tulips, peonies, and dahlias from 10am - 2pm. Please park at the East of Eden Farmstand.

Harvest Tide Organics (10)
www.harvesttideorganics.com
304 Pork Point Rd.

Please come join us on the farm for a look at our farm! Visit the farm at 304 Pork Point (park along the road by the white welcome tent) for tours and explanations of our high tunnel production and our flower U-pick. Tours start on the hour and half hour from 10 am until 1:30 pm.

Peary's Garden (3)
Instagram.com/pearysgarden 218 Main St.

Peary's Garden is a community garden space started in 2017 by Brian Smith and Lily Montgomery. In 2016, Brian presented the idea of continuing the space as a community garden to the BCDI "Community Conversations" gathering, where it was enthusiastically received and supported. Peary's Garden is located on Brian and Luana Smith's property off of Sadie Lane by the East of Eden Farmstand.

Our garden has 23 plots available each season for community members to rent, a garden shed full of donated tools, compost, seeds, water, and garden advice. "Forno del Geometra", a wood fired pizza oven built by Brian and a few garden members during the pandemic, is also available for gardeners to use. We will have the oven fired up and ready to sell pizza to Open Farm Day guests so please come hungry! The recent addition of "Peary's Privy" will add comfort and convenience for gardeners and visitors. Peary's is a family-friendly space and welcomes gardeners of all ages and abilities. Open 11am - 2pm.

Stonecipher Farm (8)
www.stonecipherfarm.com
1186 River Rd.

Stonecipher Farm is a small organic mixed vegetable and fruit farm. We will be highlighting the "no-till" principles aspect of our cultivation practices, focusing on deep compost, and mulches. We employ biodiverse planting practices, for optimal plant health and also to benefit native bugs, birds, and amphibians. We will tour our fields and greenhouses. We grow a lot of flowers, and things should be in full bloom for Open Farm Day! Tours from 12:00 to 3:30 pm. We are located across the street from Mortimer LaPointe Woodworking. Also, our farm store is open 7 days a week from 9:00 am to 6:00 pm.

MEET OUR ARTISTS, CRAFTERS & WOODWORKERS

Cathance River Gallery (14)
www.cathancerivergallery.com

Fine art, wood carvings, and furniture. The gallery is a cooperative of four Bowdoinham artists (Bill Stanton, Jane Page Conway, Mark Donovan, Wayne Sanford) and four Brunswick artists (Robert Bryan, Bill Robitzek, Judith Schuppiner, Dan Warren). Plus special guest artists. Welcoming visitors from 10am to 4pm.

Jane Page-Conway Fine Art Photography (14)
www.janepageconway.com

Jane has been making and altering photographic images for over 30 years. She's an inquisitive experimenter, exploring both traditional wet darkroom & alternative photographic processes such as: infrared film, Polaroid manipulations and emulsion transfers, hand-tinting black and white photographs, cyanotype & kallitype. Jane has learned to restructure her thinking in the digital age, blending the old with the new. And now she practices the ancient painting medium of encaustic wax with her photography.

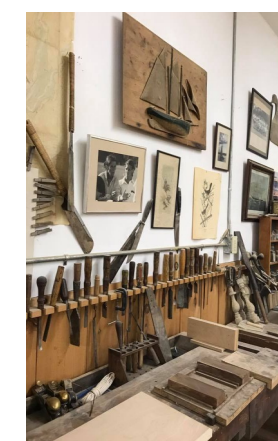

Janna DeWan Pottery (4)
www.jannadewan.com

Janna has been working in clay since 2000 when she took a ceramics class in high school. Although she got a degree in bassoon performance from Syracuse University, she spent most of her free time in the clay studio. Janna's work is handmade in her home studio and fired in an electric kiln (and the occasional wood fired kiln!). She uses a black stoneware clay layered with slip, underglaze, and monoprinted drawings.

Just Playing with Glass (4)

Just Playing With Glass is a fused glass and found glass creative outlet. Creating beautiful items for every day and special occasion use. As a continuous learner Amy is always learning and experimenting with materials and techniques hence the name "Just Playing With Glass."

LaPointe Antiques & Restoration (9)
www.mortimerlapointe.com

Mortimer builds new furniture from reclaimed wood and repairs and restores antiques. The pieces are crafted from a constantly changing collection of vintage reclaimed lumber. The beauty, shape and texture of each piece of wood is truly unique.

Mark Donovan (14)
www.bowdoinhamartisans.com

Mark has lived in Bowdoinham since 1991 with his wife Brigid. He has enjoyed creating wooden art objects his entire life, and has been working at it professionally since year 2000. His specialties include carving, sculpture and inlay.

Merrymeeting Arts Center (16)
www.merrymeetingartscenter.org

Since opening in September 2007, Merrymeeting Arts Center (MAC) has been an active member of the Bowdoinham community. Inspired and guided by the eclectic spirit of Bryce Muir, MAC encourages art, education and community celebrating the cultural heritage and natural environment of Merrymeeting Bay. Bryce viewed "the arts" in the broadest sense and "artists" as all those who make art in any genre. Our gallery and studio offer opportunities for our community and beyond to express themselves as teachers, makers, and supporters of the arts. The Gallery will be featuring the works of local artist,

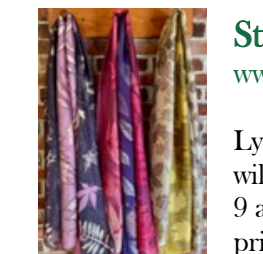

Merrymeeting Arts Studio (15)

Merrymeeting Arts Center will hold a drop in Block Printing Workshop where you can make a quilt square to become part of a community quilt to be auctioned off at a later date. These events are free to the public but donations are always welcome to help us further provide Art for Everyone. The Studio will be open from 11-4 pm.

Morphee Creations (13)
www.morpheecreations.com

Manon Whittlesey, of Morphee Creations, will be opening her home for viewing paintings and prints, and making plein air painting available in the gardens. This location will also host Sara Cox of Delilah pottery and her gorgeous selections of porcelain pieces. Stop by, see some art, and paint! Looking forward to welcoming you from 10 am - 3 pm.

Starrock Designs (1)
www.bowdoinhamartisans.com

Lynn Sternfels from Starrock Designs will be at Campo di Fiori nursery from 9 am - 3pm with her unique botanically printed scarves.

Watersong Music (16)
www.watersongmusic.org

Earl Bigelow created Watersong Music for the sharing and teaching all the facets of music. Recording, performance and teaching music has become Earl's happy occupation, and in his studio he is able to do all three. Come check out Earl's music studio and see where the music happens: 10:00 am to 2:00 pm.

Wayne Sanford, Inside Firewood (14 & 12)
www.bowdoinhamartisans.com/
wayne-sanford

If you burn wood, you know that some pieces are difficult to split or impossible to stack. Those chunks, mostly burls, gauls, crotches, and collars, are a wonderful challenge. I carve in a free-form manner to help each chunk of wood tell its own story. My goal is for each piece to be visually attractive from any angle and delightful to handle. Most pieces can be positioned or assembled in multiple orientations. I primarily carve Maine hardwoods, including apple, ash, beech, birch, cherry, lilac, locust, maple and pear. I have found an artistic home in the Bowdoinham Guild artisans. I display at the Guild's Holiday Sale, at local art walks & festivals and at the Cathance River Gallery.

William Stanton (14)
www.bowdoinhamartisans.com

Bill retired from a career in civil engineering in 2003. He works out of his studio in the old Cathance River Gallery in Bowdoinham. He paints with acrylics and oils, mostly doing landscapes of Bowdoinham.

Zachary Fields Ceramics (4)
Instagram: zbfceramics

Zachary Fields is a life-long educator and potter specializing in wheel-thrown and raku-fired pottery. He's been creating pots for 30 years and fell in love with the raku firing process for its rich history and hands-on approach where he tends to the kiln, removing molten-hot pots and placing them into combustibles where they burst into flames. The resulting surface decoration is an interplay of crackling, metallic luster, color variation, smoke patterns, and crazing. Zachary is also the studio manager of Merrymeeting Arts Center in Bowdoinham.

Please note there are many more artists and artisans in our community than can fit here. Look for them at our local galleries, on the Bowdoinham Guild of Artisans' website (www.bowdoinhamartisans.com), and tabling at our local events.

Welcome to Bowdoinham
 "On Beautiful Merrymeeting Bay"

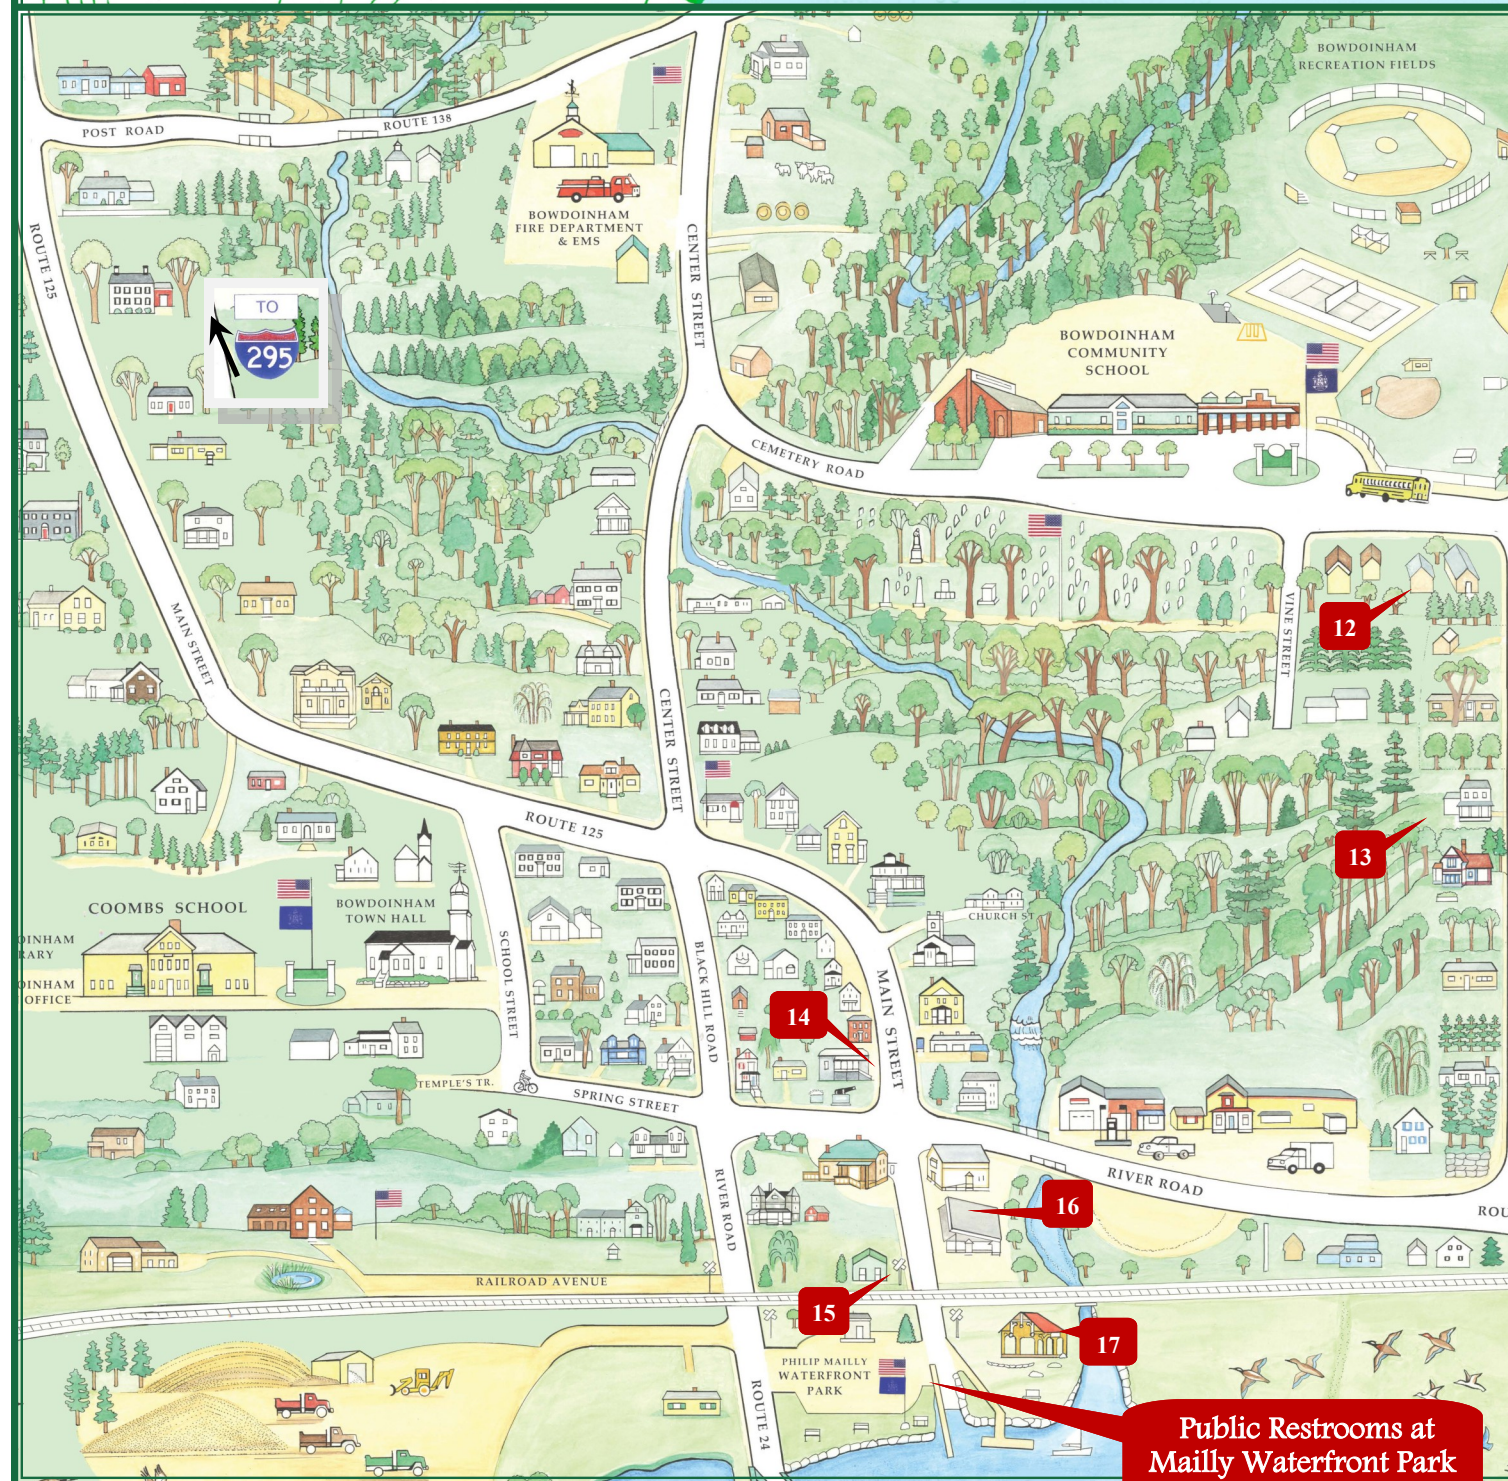

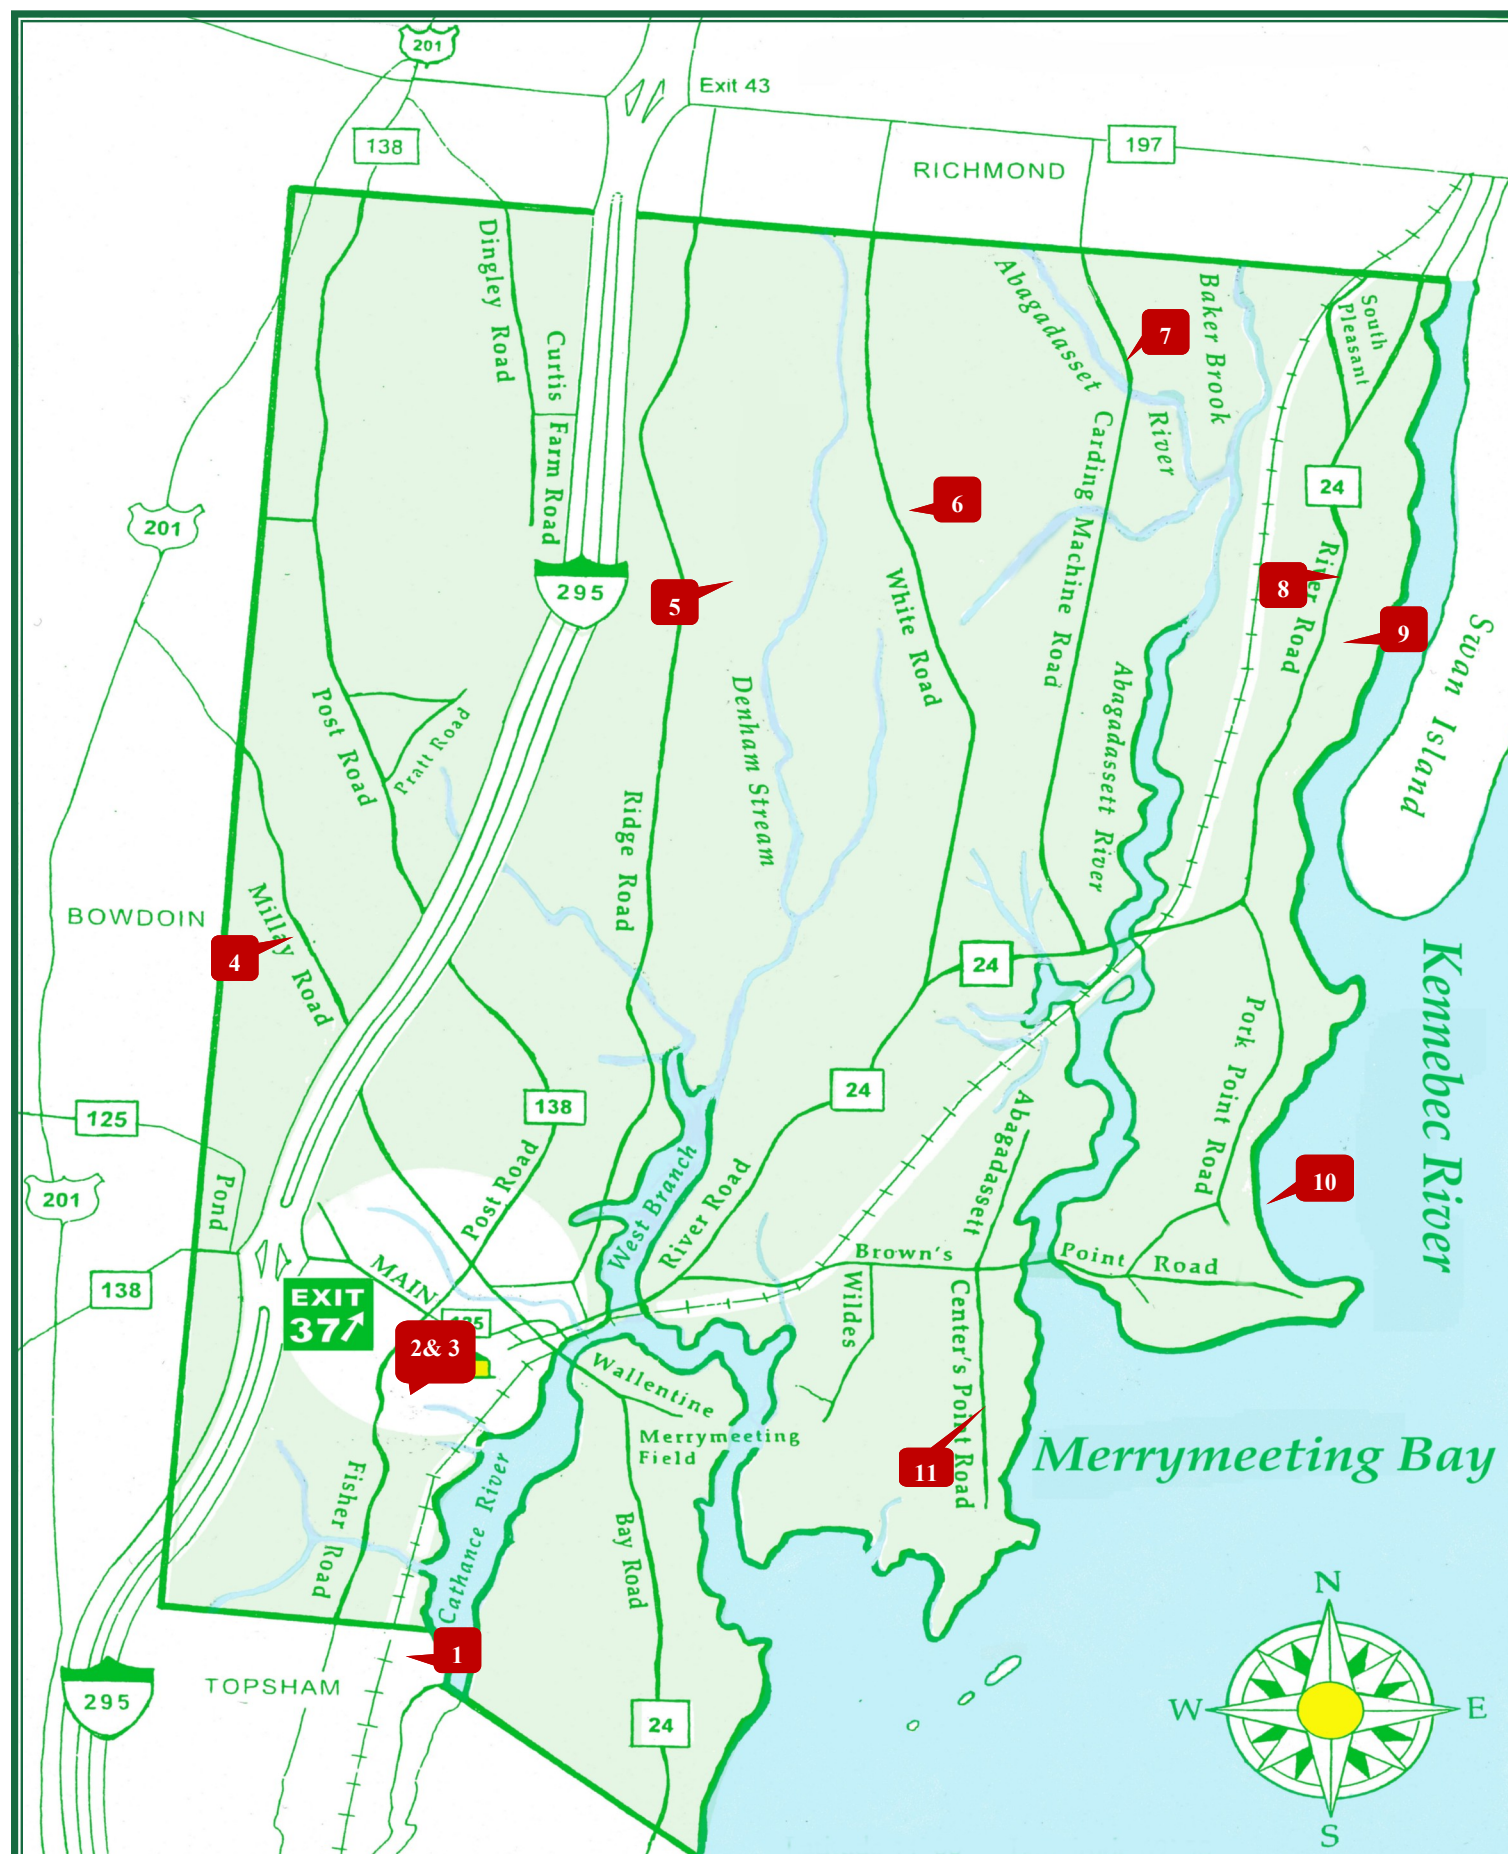

Though the 1600's saw attempts at settlement, it was not until 1730 that permanent settlers, many with names still common in Bowdoinham, built along the shores of Merrymeeting Bay and the Abbagadasset River. On September 18, 1762, Bowdoinham was incorporated, named for Peter Bowdoin, a religious refugee from France, who had bought the tract of land that included this area. The first church was built in 1765, and three school districts were authorized in 1791. At one point Bowdoinham stretched from the Richmond-Gardiner line to the Topsham line and west to include Bowdoin.

Agriculture has had a long history in Bowdoinham, pre-dating the town's incorporation in 1762. The most fertile, well-drained soils have been used for vegetables and first production, while the less well-drained soils have favored animal raising and hay production. During the 18th century, 95% of the townspeople raised their own food and fiber and sold the surplus to local people or businesses. By the 19th century, the demands of town and city populations created a larger marketing opportunity to serve the increasing population that no longer had access to farm land. During the 20th century, the production of farms was geared to the wholesale market. The last quarter of the 20th century saw the beginning of the change from wholesale marketing to a more intensive focus on retail customers. This initial focus was intensified by the "organic" and "buy local" desires of the Maine population which displays itself in restaurant offerings, summer and winter farmers' markets, food clubs and "community supported agriculture". The 21st century has seen a burst of new farms in Bowdoinham.

Bowdoinham's village is located on the banks of the Cathance River. Its proximity to Interstate 295, Brunswick, Topsham, Lewiston, Auburn, Augusta, and Portland make it an ideal place to live, visit, or locate a business. Named "A Very Crafty Town" by Down East Magazine in 2008, Bowdoinham is home to many well-known artists whose work is a direct reflection of the natural beauty of the area. In the Cathance Landing Building on the waterfront you will find the Merrymeeting Arts Center. Up on the hill, in the old high school building, you will find one of the best little libraries in the state and the historic town hall where visitors gather for contra dances, art shows and the longest-running plant sale in the state. The Bowdoinham Community School is a top-ranking K-5 elementary school built mainly from donated lumber and labor along with money raised from several years of local chicken barbecues. Bordering the school, kids and adults can be seen enjoying the baseball fields, a skating rink, a tennis court and a basketball court. In the center of town, Maily Waterfront Park features an easily accessible public boat launch, picnic tables, a gazebo, and public restrooms. During the summer, the park is home to free Sunday concerts.

A short boat ride will find you in the middle of Merrymeeting Bay, an ecological wonder. Merrymeeting Bay drains 38% of the freshwater in the state; its watershed comprises an area totaling some 10,000 square miles. The Bay is located in Midcoast Maine at the confluence of six rivers: the Cathance, Muddy, Abbagadasset, Eastern and—two of Maine's largest rivers—the Kennebec and Androscoggin. While generally considered an estuary, biologically, the Bay is classified as tidal riverine and geologically, as an inland delta. The Bay is for all intents and purposes 100% freshwater. Narrow river restrictions at the Chops and Thorne Head slow the incoming salt tide from 17 miles downstream and restrict the outgoing volume of fresh water draining more than a third of the state. It is the backed up freshwater rising 4-6 feet against the advancing salt water that makes the tide. The Kennebec is, in fact, tidal all the way to Augusta. The Bay is a 9,000 acre system of tidal freshwater marshes and open water that provides premier spawning habitat as well as being the largest staging ground in the northeast for migratory waterfowl. The Bay is internationally significant for its many rare and endangered plants and animals.

Bowdoinham's location on Merrymeeting Bay led to the growth of an economy based on a blend of maritime crafts; fishing and boat building, combined with farming, and associated home industry. In the winter, fishing shacks appear on the river by the village center, continuing down the river and into the bay. Visitors and locals gather to fish for the small and delicious Atlantic Smelt. Once a year, the townspeople come together in the park during mid September to "Celebrate" its birthday. Celebrate Bowdoinham is a celebration of Bowdoinham history, culture, arts, ecology, agriculture, commerce and the wonderful people that live here and call Bowdoinham home. It's Bowdoinham's high quality of life and strong sense of community that led to it being named one of the "Best Places to Live in Maine" by Down East Magazine.

2024 Open Farm & Studio Day!

Bowdoinham's Open Farm & Studio Day, is a celebration of Bowdoinham's strong farming and artisan community. It is a day where farmers and artisans' welcome visitors to their businesses to teach them about their practice. Public offerings vary from offering tours, fresh food, and demonstrations, to exhibits, and sales.

Open Farm Day is celebrated statewide on the fourth Sunday of July and Bowdoinham is one of very few towns in Maine to organize its own town wide event. This has been going on since 2012. Further, the Town started a separate Open Studio Day in 2014. The events have now been combined over the past few years. The bond between the two communities is strong with many farms welcoming artists to open pop-up shops at their locations.

Follow the red signs throughout town to visit dozens of local farms and art studios showcasing the best of Bowdoinham. From 9am -5pm: Explore farms and studios for live demonstrations, farm tours, fresh food, and to shop farm stores, pop-up markets, and more! From 4pm - 7pm Head to Maily Waterfront Park (1 Main St.) for a Bowdoinham Food Pantry benefit BBQ, serving up fresh locally grown items, and live music by Rough Sawn at the gazebo.
